Course Description (Catalog)

English 225 Business Communication is designed for students to develop a professional written style for the workplace. Students will examine the similarities and differences between writing for academic venues and professional settings. Students will examine and develop various types of business documents including email, proposal reports, user manuals, and other professional communiques.

Course Scope

ENGL225 Business Writing provides instruction in the effectiveness of correct business communication. Students will engage in a variety of business writing exercises to allow students to practice with simulated real-world materials and situations. Writing for the world of work is a craft, not an art form; it is a rational process that can be learned. Each exercise in the course aims toward developing student skills in the rational process of business communication.
STUDENT WARNING: This course syllabus is from a previous semester archive and serves only as a preparatory reference. Please use this syllabus as a reference only until the professor opens the classroom and you have access to the updated course syllabus. Please do NOT purchase any books or start any work based on this syllabus; this syllabus may NOT be the one that your individual instructor uses for a course that has not yet started. If you need to verify course textbooks, please refer to the online course description through your student portal. This syllabus is proprietary material of APUS.

Course Objectives

Students who successfully complete this course will be able to:

- Compose and analyze the kind of writing required to respond properly to business communication situations and become familiar with the process of producing documents common in the world of business.
- Produce letters, memos, reports, e-mails, and other correspondence that achieve a purpose, are clear and easy to understand, engage the attention of the audience, and are enjoyable to read.
- Differentiate between effective and ineffective communication in a business setting.
- Organize, plan, and prepare effective business correspondence.
- Synthesize information from a variety of sources, through techniques of assessment and evaluation, into well-composed business messages.

Course Delivery Method

This course delivered via distance learning will enable students to complete academic work in a flexible manner, completely online. Course materials and access to an online learning management system will be made available to each student. Online assignments are due by Sunday evening of the week as noted and include Forum questions (accomplished in groups through a threaded forum), examination, and individual assignments submitted for review by the Faculty Member). Assigned faculty will support the students throughout this eight-week course.

Writing Expectations

Forums and Assignment Expectations:
Graded Forums ongoing each week: All Weeks containing Graded Forum tasks are graded out of 100 points.
For full credit: initial post to respond to prompt is 200-250 words and is posted by Wednesday of the week. Substantive posts address the question, provide insight, connections to our assigned readings and lesson lecture content, and even may include cited outside research. Each Forum also requires a student respond to at least two classmates by Sunday. A substantive response is 50-100 words and offers more than an “I agree” or “I disagree” sentiment. Follow ups can include furthering the topic by offering additional examples, illustrations, “for instances”; links to helpful websites, sharing of personal experience regarding the topic, or speculative examples or applications of the ideas in the Forums.

Writing Assignments (Points 100; Percent of grade ranges from 7.5 to 15):
All writing assignments for Weeks 1-7 must be done in MS Word. Students using OpenOffice or Mac Pages must “save as” .doc or .docx (even .rtf will work).
Use Ariel or Times New Roman 11 or 12 point font unless working in a creative layout (for example, in the Week 5 User Manual assignment).

Week 8’s assignment is a PowerPoint Presentation. Using Open Office, save files as .PPT, PPTX, or PPS.

*Week 7 Final Report:
STUDENT WARNING: This course syllabus is from a previous semester archive and serves only as a preparatory reference. Please use this syllabus as a reference only until the professor opens the classroom and you have access to the updated course syllabus. Please do NOT purchase any books or start any work based on this syllabus; this syllabus may NOT be the one that your individual instructor uses for a course that has not yet started. If you need to verify course textbooks, please refer to the online course description through your student portal. This syllabus is proprietary material of APUS.

This 6-10 page business report is designed to provide a “real world” experience in composing a business report. Students will choose their topics, but should consider topics that genuinely interest them and may be currently applicable to their jobs, or applicable to a job they aspire to have. The final report is done in MS Word, contains a cover letter, summary, introduction, discussion (with at least one illustration), conclusion, recommendations, Works Cited (at least 6), and appendix (at least one item in appendix).

More info in Course weekly modules and assignment tabs.

*Week 8 Final Report Presentation (PPT):
This 6-10 slide PowerPoint presentation is based on the content of the Week 7 report. Students generate slides/presentation with bullets, illustration, graphs, etc. as they would present to a business meeting setting.

RUBRICS: Any assignment with a grading rubric will have that rubric located in the Course within the assignment tab within the details for that assignment.

Citation and Reference Style
Attention Please: Students will follow the MLA or APA as the sole citation and reference style used in written work submitted as part of coursework to the University. Assignments completed in a narrative essay or composition format must follow the citation style cited in the.

Note on plagiarism policy: All students enrolled in this course are expected to be aware of what plagiarism means and how to avoid it. In other words, since you have all taken introductory classes at APUS that explain plagiarism and its consequences instructors will not tolerate the “I didn't know this was plagiarism” argument. You can always ask your instructor if in doubt, but ignorance is not an excuse. Further, instructors have the right to check your work for plagiarism with the help of TURNITIN, a plagiarism detection software—The use TURNITIN in this course may not be mandated by default, but instructors can check any time if they see the need to do so. All submitted papers are expected to be properly documented. Remember that not using sources is not the solution—you are expected to find and quote or paraphrase good material in a higher-level English course.

Late Assignments
Students are expected to submit classroom assignments by the posted due date and to complete the course according to the published class schedule. As adults, students, and working professionals, I understand you must manage competing demands on your time. Should you need additional time to complete an assignment, please contact me before the due date so we can discuss the situation and determine an acceptable resolution. Routine submission of late assignments is unacceptable and may result in points deducted from your final course grade.

Netiquette
Online universities promote the advancement of knowledge through positive and constructive debate – both inside and outside the classroom. Forums on the Internet, however, can occasionally degenerate into needless insults and “flaming.” Such activity and the loss of good manner are not acceptable in a university setting – basic academic rules of good behavior and proper “Netiquette” must persist. Remember that you are in a place for the rewards and excitement of learning which does not include descent to personal attacks or student attempts to stifle the Forum of others.

- Technology Limitations: While you should feel free to explore the full-range of creative composition in your formal papers, keep e-mail layouts simple. The Sakai classroom may not fully support MIME or HTML encoded messages, which means that bold face, italics, underlining, and a variety of color-coding or other visual effects will not translate in your e-mail messages.

- Humor Note: Despite the best of intentions, jokes and especially satire can easily get lost or taken seriously. If you feel the need for humor, you may wish to add “emoticons” to help alert your readers: ;-(, : ), ☺

Disclaimer Statement

Course content may vary from the outline to meet the needs of this particular group.

Online Library

The Online Library is available to enrolled students and faculty from inside the electronic campus. This is your starting point for access to online books, subscription periodicals, and Web resources that are designed to support your classes and generally not available through search engines on the open Web. In addition, the Online Library provides access to special learning resources, which the University has contracted to assist with your studies. Questions can be directed to librarian@apus.edu.

- Charles Town Library and Inter Library Loan: The University maintains a special library with a limited number of supporting volumes, collection of our professors’ publication, and services to search and borrow research books and articles from other libraries.

- Electronic Books: You can use the online library to uncover and download over 50,000 titles, which have been scanned and made available in electronic format.

- Electronic Journals: The University provides access to over 12,000 journals, which are available in electronic form and only through limited subscription services.

- Tutor.com: AMU and APU Civilian & Coast Guard students are eligible for 10 free hours of tutoring provided by APUS. Tutor.com connects you with a professional tutor online 24/7 to provide help with assignments, studying, test prep, resume writing, and more. Tutor.com is tutoring the way it was meant to be. You get expert tutoring whenever you need help, and you work one-to-one with your tutor in your online classroom on your specific problem until it is done.
STUDENT WARNING: This course syllabus is from a previous semester archive and serves only as a preparatory reference. Please use this syllabus as a reference only until the professor opens the classroom and you have access to the updated course syllabus. Please do NOT purchase any books or start any work based on this syllabus; this syllabus may NOT be the one that your individual instructor uses for a course that has not yet started. If you need to verify course textbooks, please refer to the online course description through your student portal. This syllabus is proprietary material of APUS.

The AMU/APU Library Guides provide access to collections of trusted sites on the Open Web and licensed resources on the Deep Web. The following are specially tailored for academic research at APUS:

- Program Portals contain topical and methodological resources to help launch general research in the degree program. To locate, search by department name, or navigate by school.
- Course Lib-Guides narrow the focus to relevant resources for the corresponding course. To locate, search by class code (e.g., SOCI111), or class name.

If a guide you need is not available yet, please email the APUS Library: librarian@apus.edu.

Turnitin.com

Faculty may require assignments be submitted to Turnitin.com. Turnitin.com will analyze a paper and report instances of potential plagiarism for the student to edit before submitting it for a grade. In some cases, professors may require students to use Turnitin.com. Typically the course professor will establish a Turnitin.com access code for his/her classes. If the code has not been established, those who wish to use Turnitin.com may ask their professor to establish the code.
