Course Summary

Course: LSTD306  Title: International Law
Length of Course: 8
Prerequisites: IRLS210  Credit Hours: 3

Description

Course Description: This course introduces students to the nature, development, principles, and processes of the law that applies among nations. Students will evaluate the various implications of state sovereignty as viewed through the prism of public international law. Specific topics include the sources of international law such as custom and treaty, the role of international organizations such as the United Nations, the bases of international jurisdiction, and international norms governing recognition, nationality, the global environment, protection of human rights, and the use of force. This course introduces the student to the basic principles and practices of international law and legal regimes and examines traditional and emerging topics in the field: human rights, the Law of the Sea, the Law of Armed Conflict, War Crime Tribunals, and the International Criminal Court.

Course Scope:

The purpose and scope of this course is to provide students with a theoretical foundation and issue area knowledge for the study of International Law that facilitates an understanding of international legal norms and regimes. The changing global system has seen the emergence of transnational and international issues that are prompting new legal mechanisms to address these problems. Within this course, the student will investigate the basic structure and actors within the international legal system. Specific issues areas will be covered including: the law of the sea, the law of armed conflict, environmental law, human rights laws, and war crime tribunals.

Objectives

Upon successfully completing this course, students will be able meet the following learning objectives:

- Describe the nature, development, and sources of international law
- Evaluate the legal, economic, political, social, and strategic implications of state sovereignty
- Recognize the meaning and significance of nationality
- Apply the principles of international jurisdiction in a variety of factual contexts
- Identify the legal principles of maritime jurisdiction, boundaries, and navigational regimes.
- Explain the legal principles governing the resort to armed force and the conduct of states and individuals during armed conflict
• Summarize the role and limitations of international law in protecting the global environment
• Articulate the significance of the emergence of the individual as a subject of international law
• Critique the development of the concept of international criminal responsibility
• Analyze contemporary global events utilizing international law as a background

Course Guidelines
CITATION AND REFERENCE STYLE

The central function of legal citation is to allow the reader to efficiently locate the cited source. All courses in the Legal Studies program require that any narrative essay or composition format follow the legal citation guidelines set forth in The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation (Columbia Law Review Ass'n et. al. eds., 20th ed. 2015). More information can be found in the Web Resources and Course Material links in the classroom.

WRITING EXPECTATIONS

Writing must be well organized and presented in a way that clearly conveys your thoughts, using full sentences, correct spelling, and proper grammar. I prefer that you use the active voice, and ask that you avoid military jargon, slang, abbreviations, and text-speak. All written submissions should be typewritten in Times New Roman 12-point font and submitted inside the electronic classroom (unless classroom access is not possible and other arrangements have been approved by the professor). Top, Bottom, Left Side and Right Side margins should be one inch, with reasonable accommodation being made for special situations and online submission variances.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Students are expected to submit classroom assignments by the posted due date and to complete the course according to the published class schedule. As adults, students, and working professionals I understand you must manage competing demands on your time. Should you need additional time to complete an assignment please contact me before the due date so we can discuss the situation and determine an acceptable resolution. Routine submission of late assignments is unacceptable and may result in points deducted from your final course grade.

Deductions:

- Late forum posts can be penalized up to 5 points per day
- Late assignments can be penalized up to 5 points per day

NETIQUETTE

Online universities promote the advance of knowledge through positive and constructive debate—both inside and outside the classroom. Discussions on the Internet, however, can occasionally degenerate into needless insults and “flaming.” Such activity and the loss of good manners are not acceptable in a university setting—basic academic rules of good behavior and proper “Netiquette” must persist. Remember that you are in a place for the fun and excitement of learning that does not include descent to personal attacks, or student attempts to stifle the discussion of others.

- Technology Limitations: While you should feel free to explore the full-range of creative composition in your formal papers, keep e-mail layouts simple. The Educator classroom may not fully support MIME or HTML encoded messages, which means that bold face, italics, underlining, and a variety of color-coding or other visual effects will not translate in your e-mail messages.
- Humor Note: Despite the best of intentions, jokes and—especially—satire can easily get lost or taken seriously. If you feel the need for humor, you may wish to add “emoticons” to help alert your readers: ;-) : )

DISLCAIMER STATEMENT

Course content may vary from the outline to meet the needs of this particular group.

ONLINE LIBRARY

The Online Library is available to enrolled students and faculty from inside the electronic campus. It provides access to subscription article databases, periodicals, books, video and more to support your research and studies. In addition, the Online Library provides access to special learning resources like tutoring services.
Library Course Guides: APUS librarians have created guides for each degree program and many courses. Each guide compiles the most relevant research tools (subscription article databases, journals and ebooks), as well as authoritative websites, multimedia and more. Explore the guides at http://apus.campusguides.com/.

Ask a Librarian: Librarians are on duty approximately 18 hours per day, 365 days per year. At http://apus.libanswers.com/, you can search for answers to library questions, or use the “Ask” button to submit a question of your own.

Speak with a Librarian: Librarians are now available on Adobe Connect, so that you may speak live and ask questions. You can speak with a Librarian by logging in here: https://apus.adobeconnect.com/speakwithalibrarian Electronic Books and Journals: You can use the online library to access over 150,000 ebooks and 40,000 journals, which are licensed for use by APUS students and faculty only. Visit the Licensed Library Databases guide to explore search options.

Research and Writing Help: Librarians have created tutorials for college-level research and writing. Click here to explore them all.

Online Tutoring: AMU and APU students are eligible for up to 10 free hours of online tutoring provided by APUS. Some military students are eligible for additional hours through their Armed Forces education offices. For more information, visit http://apus.campusguides.com/tutor.

Interlibrary Loan and other services: When you need a book or article not held in the APUS Online Library, you may request it via interlibrary loan (ILL). Read more about ILL and other library services.

Turnitin.com

Turnitin.com is a tool to improve student research skills that also detects plagiarism. The site provides resources on developing topics and assignments that encourage and guide students in producing papers that are intellectually honest, original in thought, and clear in expression. This tool helps ensure a culture of adherence to the University’s standards for intellectual honesty. Turnitin.com also reviews students’ papers for matches with Internet materials and with thousands of student papers in its database, and returns an Originality Report to instructors and/or students.
